

Article Publishing Charges (APC)

Beginning January 2022, all published NAVIGATION papers will be published in an Open Access (OA) environment, removing all paywalls and making papers published in NAVIGATION available to a worldwide audience.

Full-length accepted technical papers (10-20 pages in length) will be charged an APC fee of $1,000 for ION members/$1,500 for non-members.

- The corresponding author of the paper is responsible for making or arranging the payment of the APC upon acceptance of the paper.
- Payment shall be made in U.S. Dollars.
- Payment can be made by credit card or check, and is due within 30 days of editorial acceptance. Payment by wire transfer shall include an additional $35 fee.
- Articles will not be published until payment has been received.

As demand for Open Access has increased, many research funders and institutions provide funding to cover the costs associated with OA publications. Additionally, a number of funding bodies and institutions have dedicated funds for OA publication charges. Authors will usually need to check with their fund/contract administrator on an article-by-article basis. Authors who do not personally have access to APC funding from an institution or research funder should consider whether co-authors may be eligible for funds from their institution or research funder. Authors planning to use research grants to pay APCs should consider that APC payments are usually made at the point of the paper's acceptance, which may be after the applicable research grant has been closed.

APCs will not be refunded when papers are retracted as a result of author error or misconduct.

APC Waivers

ION will offer a limited number of APC waivers for accepted technical papers on a case-by-case basis. Considerations for APC Waivers include:

- Authors are based in a country which is classified by the World Bank as a low-income or a lower-middle-income economy
- Authors have no institutional affiliation or funding
- Short manuscripts (four pages or fewer)
- Manuscripts representing a technology review article

In order to apply for an APC waiver on any of the above grounds, please contact the journal's managing office at the point of submission. Requests will not be considered until a paper has been submitted and will be awarded at the discretion of the managing editor. Waiver requests made during the review process, or after acceptance, will not be considered.

Current APC waiver requests shall be sent to: navi@ion.org. A decision on the waiver will normally be made within three working days.
